| Copy and Paste Chant Here | Can't Stop the Mixing By Jaime Knight and Anna Harvin 2017 (to the tune of Can't Stop the Feeling by Justin Timberlake) I've got this matter up in my home It's made of atoms and it's everywhere I roam Can be an element, like silver and gold. Or a mixture or a compound I've been told. I've got that matter in my pocket Makes up everything I meet If we leave it alone, it's an element oooohhhh But when we combine two or more it's gonna change to something new You're gonna like the way we mix it, so don't stop When you combine two elements though And the chemicals are changing so You've got a compound you already know So just imagine, the salt or H₂O Now in mixtures I can see all the elements They can be separated, those ingredients come on The things in a bowl like chocolates and peppermints Just a physical change, not to the elements. I can't stop the mixing! Is it a compound or mixture? I can't stop the mixing! Is it a compound or mixture? |
